Weekly Report Highlights

Congress

25X1

- The Offices of Soviet Analysis (SOVA) and Near Eastern and South Asian Analysis (NESA) briefed the House Appropriations Committee on the military aspects of a possible Soviet withdrawal from Afghanistan, including current military indicators, likely frameworks for withdrawal, and US monitoring capabilities. The briefing was requested by Congressman Wilson, who is a strong supporter of the Afghan insurgents.
- SOVA and the NIO for Strategic Programs briefed the SSCI on the Air Force's latest analysis of the Soviet ABM breakout potential. Senators Helms, McClure, and Wallop also attended the briefing, which was held because of a recent Wall Street Journal editorial on the subject. The session concluded with SSCI Chairman Boren expressing his belief that the editorial had exaggerated the danger of the situation.

WEEKLY REPORT FOR THE DCI
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER
WEEK ENDING 4 MARCH 1988

1988

25X1

1989

- A package of interim 1989 budget materials was sent to the Senate and House Intelligence and Appropriations Committees. The package includes an overview of our program and summarizes proposed new initiatives and ongoing investment programs. The materials will assist the Committees as they hold their hearings on our budget request in the coming weeks.

1990/91

- The Executive Director issued revised fiscal guidance and an updated schedule for the 1990/91 programs. The Comptroller's Office subsequently met with the staffs to amplify on the instructions and discussed preparation of their program submissions in April.

Other

25X1

- We conducted a series of "dry runs" of the briefings that will be given to Senate Intelligence Committee staffers next week on the Agency's base resources.

DCI WEEKLY REPORT
PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE

4 March 1988

25X1

Executive Appearances

The Director "hit a responsive cord" when he spoke to the American Legion after receiving their most prestigious award, The Distinguished Service Medal, on Tuesday, 1 March. The Legion members reported how impressed they were with the Director's knowledge of the Legion and his warm acceptance of the award. The Legion's largest crowd of the day was present for the ceremony.

The Director's appearance at the A. B. Laffer Conference was described as perfect, and the attendees were very impressed. According to the head of the Conference, the Director "connected with the audience and what he had to say was important to them." The 30 attendees collectively manage billions of dollars.
